Protection You Can Trust

If you own a business or company of any kind, then you know that intrusion, robbery and burglary are potential, constant risks that you may face. In order to lessen the chances of your business or company being burglarized, Shepherd Communication and Security offers a line of intrusion detection systems to protect you. With top of the line equipment and quality installations, let us help protect your business, employees, assets and property today. We also offer a mobile security management solution to our customers. With this optional service, the intrusion detection system can be remotely controlled from your mobile device or computer.

Mobile security management will send you a text or email alert if a critical event occurs. You also have the options to safely arm or disarm your system, and to view live or recorded video without being in the office. With an intrusion detection system from Shepherd Communication and Security, you can rest easy and have the peace of mind that your company or business is well protected. Contact us today to learn more about the features of the system and how we can install it for you at an affordable cost.
