Control Your Environment

With access control, you gain the power of monitoring and controlling the movements of both vehicles and people through secured points such as turnstiles, doors, and parking lot entrances. With access control systems in place, you'll be able to manage access to important places or information like business records, monitor and control valuable inventory, and property. We also offer specialized door services including electronic door hardware, electronic locking systems and automatic door operators. These electronic systems are only unlocked when a valid mobile credential or a valid biometric card is presented. You'll have complete control over who is able to access the building down to the individual spaces.

Shepherd Communication & Security can design, install and support an access control system for any size building or campus, making management, reporting and control more convenient than ever.

Our access control system is designed with open and flexible technology to provide real-time monitoring, real-time reporting and real-time control. Take back the security of your building and take advantage of our user friendly system. Shepherd Communication and Security is here for you so call today to learn more about access control and perimeter management.
